LOGISTICS AND TRANSPORT

Grouping all the documents associated with a shipment, accessing them anytime, anywhere, responding to customers in a matter of minutes: the world of logistics is demanding and moves huge amounts of information as well as products.

Efficiency is therefore a top concern in logistics processes. Efficiency can only be achieved by centralizing and organizing information to speed up any transport process.

With the right document management solution, you can dematerialize the cargo movement dossier and get a practical solution that allows documents to be signed directly and used on the move, with the information being uploaded via a mobile phone app.
